SDG 8 DECENT WORK

RMG MUST MOVE BEYOND CHEAP LABOUR TO STAY COMPETITIVE.

Emebet Menna, Deputy Country Director-Programs CARE Bangladesh

Bangladesh's garment sector cannot stay globally competitive by relying on low-cost labour alone and must invest in decent work, productivity and skills as technology, sustainability requirements and rising costs reshape the industry, speakers said.

The country's ready-made garment (RMG) sector is at a turning point as changes in global trade, technology, climate and sustainability reshape the industry, said Emebet Mena, deputy country director of CARE Bangladesh.

Speaking at a roundtable titled "Redesigning Systems for Decent Work and Global Competitiveness", she said the sector's future competitiveness must go hand in hand with decent work.

Merchandise shipments from Bangladesh grew 5.43% year-on-year to $9.15 billion in July-August, the first two months of the current fiscal year, according to data from the Export Promotion Bureau (EPB)

Also, in the monthly comparison, exports of goods grew 13.14 percent year-on-year to $4.42 billion in August this year.

The readymade garments (RMG) sector remained the principal driver of export growth, posting a 13.92% year-on-year increase to $3.89 billion in August 2027.

SDG 12 RESPONSIBLE CONSUMPTION

BEYOND BASIC PAIRS

WHERE BANGLADESH'S SHOES GO

The Bangladesh Investment Development Authority (BIDA) estimates that the country can produce around 378 million pairs of footwear a year. Of this output, between 53 and 66 % is consumed locally, placing annual domestic consumption broadly between 200 mil and 250 mil pairs.

Bangladesh's footwear economy includes more than 3,500 micro, small and medium enterprises alongside roughly 90 large manufacturers. Therefore, its production and retail data sits outside the most visible branded networks.

Industry executives describe a clear change over the past five to seven years. Consumers who once treated foreign labels as a shorthand for better design or quality are increasingly willing to choose Bangladeshi products.

The Ramon Magsaysay Award Foundation (RMAF) announced the names of the 2026 award recipients in Manila, the capital of the Philippines (August 31).

Along with Runa Khan, two other individuals have received this award this year. They are Tommy Koh of Singapore and Bo Chi of Myanmar.

The foundation said Runa Khan is being recognised for her profound empathy for the poorest of the poor in her country, and her courage, vision, and tenacity in building and leading Friendship to accomplish her mission.

“In her hands, privilege became not an entitlement, but a responsibility; not a family legacy to protect, but a gift to be shared so that others, too, might have the chance to live with hope, opportunity, and dignity,” it said.
